Jelani Cobb, 2025 AHA Humanist of the Year

The American Humanist Association will award Jelani Cobb the 2025 Humanist of the Year. Dr. Cobb is a Peabody Award winning journalist, professor, and public intellectual who models core humanist values in everything he does.

His work has significantly shaped public consciousness regarding racial issues and media ethics. By fostering discussions on accountability in journalism and advocating for diverse narratives, he continues to be an influential figure in contemporary journalism. His career exemplifies the vital role of journalism in promoting a substantive, informed discourse on pressing social issues while navigating the challenges of a rapidly evolving media landscape.

Through his teaching, writing, and public engagements, Cobb is a critical voice advocating for journalism that prioritizes truth, accountability, and inclusivity, ultimately strengthening democratic practices in society.
