Albert Einstein 1879-1955

Albert Einstein Quotes

If you can't explain it simply, you don't understand it well enough.

Failure is success in progress.

Don't listen to the person who has the answers; listen to the person who has the questions.

The world will not be destroyed by those who do evil, but by those who watch them without doing anything.

The difference between stupidity and genius is that genius has its limits.

Common sense is the collection of prejudices acquired by age eighteen.

Albert Einstein was Born on March 14, 1879 in the German Empire. After the rise of Hitler, he renounced his German citizenship and eventually became a U.S. citizen. He was the embodiment of genius and the pre-eminent scientist of the modern age, his discoveries have profoundly affected our understand space and time and our place in the world.

Einstein's name and image are instantly recognizable everywhere in the world.

Einstein loved science, but also music, nature and his fellow humans. He was known as a philosopher and humanist who was keenly interested in and concerned about the affairs of the world.

His sagacious, wise, and humorous quotations, letters, and articles are widely used throughout popular culture as well as in historical and academic works.
