

What Loss of Humanist House Would Mean

We would lose a central location, some members, a place to store important records, our excellent library, signs and banners as well as cherished wall displays such as the carved Humanist House sign which has hung over the door of the most currently active home over all the nomadic years

We would lose amenities such as refrigerator, microwave, stage, printer and computer as well as the large screen for our slides and for the use of our speakers for pictures and bullet points.

We would lose our ability to make a difference by providing space for groups such as the Citizens' Climate Lobby, LifeRing and the ACLU.

We would lose the ability to raise money by renting space and by holding celebratory and fund-raising dinners.

We would sacrifice the trust of the many donors who invested in and furnished this place, as well as the chance of calling on them in the future, plus we will lose the chance of ever having our own place again.

Once Humanist House is gone, it, and all its potential, will be gone forever.

SAVE HUMANIST HOUSE!

We are making a last ditch effort to save Humanist House, our Community Center, which provides so much for so little to the Free Thought Community and people of good will.

We provide a 'clean, well-lighted place', less than 3 years old, with comfortable seating for up to 50 people, with state of the art internet service, video facilities, a separate smaller conference room, and an outstanding library.

The calendar in this newsletter lists our many activities, including stimulating talks every week of the year by experts on widely varied subjects, free to the public. A sumptuous, inexpensive buffet follows the talks, and allows us to share conversations around small tables.

We also host monthly meetings of the Citizens Climate Lobby, and of Philosophy and Substance Abuse groups. In addition, we offer a monthly Movie for Skeptics and provide space for various drives and causes. Special events and holiday celebrations are "icing on the cake!" Unfortunately, in spite of two years of increasing income from rental fees and donations, we are continuing to deplete our resources at an unsustainable rate.

We are pinning our hopes on a pledge drive. According to our Treasurer, 25 pledges from people willing to contribute an additional $100. a month, or 50 pledges of an additional $50. a month, would be sufficient to sustain Humanist House. Progress toward that goal would convince the board to commit to another year at our beloved "Place for All of Us" while we work toward becoming self-sustaining.

Of course pledges made in the hope of saving Humanist would not be expected to come in if we do, in fact, lose our beloved "Center for the Free Thought Community".

In order to save Humanist House we earnestly solicit the support of our far- ranging community. Pledges can be made at Humanist House on cards provided for this purpose, on our website, www.humanists.org, and on Meetup.com/humanistcommunity.
