

Tour of New Forum Location September 30 at 4:00 PM

The address is Palo Alto University
1791 Arastradero Rd. Allen Calvin Campus
Take Alpine Rd. off ramp from 280

The location is a considerable distance from where we meet now, but surveys indicate most members of HCSV approve of the move, which is closer to the majority of our members. It is a delightful location, a whole new adventure!

There will be an Open House on the first Sunday in October instead of our usual forum.

A major task before us now is the inventory and disposition of our possessions (tables, chairs, books, etc.) at Humanist House.

There will be a sale on Forget-Me-Not Sunday, the 23rd, with a preview on Saturday, the day before.

HCSV Member Marc Perkel Dies

Marc Perkel, a long-time Humanist member, died August 1 at age 62. Marc hosted the Humanist website for years, at no charge, and presented several highly original forums on a variety of subjects.

Marc was an inveterate problem-solver, especially if the solution involved technology. When he was diagnosed with lung cancer two years ago, he immediately began researching possible cures. He then worked with his doctors on an innovative treatment plan that he helped design.

A memorial for Marc will be held sometime this fall. Details will be announced in a future newsletter.
